HISTORIA

This sketch was presented along with the sketch corresponding with the other half of the cupola to the Building Committee of the Metropolitan Chapter of Zaragoza on 5 October 1780. See record Regina Martyrum.

Both were acquired by the Metropolitan Chapter of Zaragoza in 1805, together with another 12 sketches for various vaults and cupolas painted by the Bayeu brothers for in the Basilica. They were purchased for a sum of 660 libras jaquesas, 17 sueldos and 8 dineros in Madrid at the estate sale of Ángela Sulpice, the widow of Leonardo Chopinot who had acquired them some years before.

ANÁLISIS ARTÍSTICO

This is a sketch in the shape of a round arch inserted in a rectangular canvas that represents the main section of the cupola, which shows the Virgin as Queen of Martyrs accompanied by a part of the heavenly court. In general, there are few differences between this sketch and the definitive painting, excepting some variations in the poses, hairstyles, iconographic attributes and colour palette used for the figures' clothing.

It is a very lively piece, thanks to a technique derived from the work of Giaquinto that relies on quick, impasto brushstrokes and deft highlights.
